Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Recertification and Program Committees, I am happy to announce the CPNP 2014 Annual Meeting, Phoenix Rising: Taking Neuropsychiatric Pharmacy Above & Beyond to be held April 27-30 in Phoenix, Arizona. Your planning committees have been hard at work developing a vibrant program offering cutting-edge topics in psychiatry and neurology to impact the treatment of neuropsychiatric disorders well into the future.

The Pre-Meeting Workshop on Sunday, April 27, is focused on the DSM-5 with Abraham Nussbaum, MD, MTS. Using cases, this workshop offering Hands-On Tools for DSM-5 Incorporation into Clinical Care and Research, will explore the key differences between DSM-IV-TR and DSM-5 and how these differences alter clinical practice and research. Participants will learn to use DSM-5 assessment tools and rating scales that can help account for cultural differences and degrees of disability, while providing more objective measures of clinical function. Lastly, the workshop will explore the limits of DSM-5 and anticipated future iterations of the DSM.

Returning to provide the first keynote of the meeting is Dr. Nussbaum joining Laura Borgelt, PharmD, FCCP, BCPS, to present on the topic of Debating Medical Marijuana: Must Everyone Get Stoned to Feel Better? In this debate session, two investigators from Colorado will discuss whether marijuana should remain a Schedule I substance, if physicians should prescribe medical marijuana, if pharmacists should dispense it, and what the future holds for medical marijuana. Additional keynote addresses delivered by nationally recognized practitioners and researchers in the field include Drs. Nassir Ghaemi and Jeff Goldberg delivering a point-counterpoint session entitled Are Atypical Antipsychotics Really Mood Stabilizers? and Jeffrey Friedman, MD, PhD, presenting on Obesity: Understanding the Role of Leptin and Potential Treatment Targets.

Other pressing issues in our world dominate 2014 programming including a session on The Pharmacist’s Role in a Transformed Health Care System: Opportunities for Mental Health presented by Terry McInnis, MD, MPH, and Violence and Mental Illness: A Public Dilemma presented by Jeffrey Swanson, PhD. Additional general session, concurrent programming, and learning labs offered throughout the meeting allow you to customize the meeting to your needs through sessions on ADHD, treatment resistant depression, addiction, electroconvulsive therapy, neurologic disorders, and much more.

On behalf of the Board and your peers serving on the Recertification and Program Committees, I invite you to attend what is sure to be a diverse and educational 2014 Annual Meeting. We hope to see you in Phoenix!

Deanna Kelly, PharmD, BCPP
2014 CPNP Program Chair

Continuing Education Credit

ACPE and BCPP Recertification Credit

The College of Psychiatric and Neurologic Pharmacists is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education as a provider of continuing pharmacy education. The 2014 Annual Meeting will provide up to 15.25 contact hours (1.525 CEUs) of knowledge- and application-based continuing education credit from CPNP approved programming. The pre-meeting workshop is provided for an additional 3.0 contact hours (0.30 CEUs) and when combined with all other CPNP programming, allows for a maximum achievable 18.25 contact hours (1.825 CEUs). Industry supported symposia offered at the Annual Meeting offer additional ACPE credit.

To earn credit, participants must participate, verify their attendance at the programming, and complete evaluations and self-assessment questions. CPNP reports to CPE Monitor within 1 month of the event and provides transcripts online on the CPNP website.

Other Credit

Five hours of Board Certified Psychiatric Pharmacist (BCPP) Recertification credit are available at the CPNP Annual Meeting from specific programming. Those desiring Recertification credit must also purchase the BCPP Live Recertification option to gain access to the Recertification testing center.

For those nurses seeking ANCC certification renewal, note that ACPE credit is accepted by ANCC (see nursecredentialing.org).

Target Audience

If you are a pharmacist, physician, educator, scientist, administrator, student, resident, fellow, nurse practitioner, or other healthcare professional involved in the comprehensive medication management of patients with psychiatric and/or neurologic disorders, we invite you to attend the CPNP Annual Meeting. Through this meeting, practitioners at all levels in the areas of psychiatry and neurology can grow and improve in their specialty areas. The Annual Meeting also benefits you in your ever-increasing role in assuring appropriate drug use, providing overall pharmacotherapy management, and enhancing positive outcomes. More importantly, the Annual Meeting provides an opportunity for all attendees to interact and share experiences regarding their areas of common interest.
Overall Learning Objectives for the Annual Meeting Include:

2. Analyze evidence-based data supporting or refuting the role of antipsychotics as “mood stabilizers” in the maintenance treatment of bipolar disorder.
3. Evaluate evidence-based literature regarding rational and irrational polypharmacy in psychiatric disorders and the role of quality metrics for polypharmacy in the inpatient setting.
4. Evaluate the potential medical benefits and risks associated with medical marijuana use.

11. Explain the value of pharmacist-provided comprehensive medication management as part of the team approach to care for patients with mental illnesses.
12. Understand the validity and reliability of clinical predictions of violence and the effectiveness of treatment and interventions to reduce violence risk in persons with serious mental illnesses.
13. Discuss cutting-edge clinical and research strategies for increasing appropriate use of clozapine in schizophrenia.
14. Discuss current efficacy and safety of using botulinum toxin in migraine treatment and evaluate its place in therapy.
15. Discuss appropriate treatments for opioid overdose and understand the role of naloxone.
16. Review available evidence regarding pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment options for compulsive gambling.
17. Discuss the role of available medications in multiple sclerosis (MS) and outline the advantages and disadvantages of drugs for MS.
18. Evaluate evidence-based medication treatment in children and adults with Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) and discuss emerging data for adjunct behavioral therapy in adults.
19. Describe the data regarding anti-inflammatory agents in psychiatric disorders.
Annual Meeting Highlights

Pre-Meeting Workshop

DSM-5: Hands-On Tools for Its Incorporation into Clinical Care and Research

Sunday, April 27, 8:15-11:45 a.m.

In May 2013, the American Psychiatric Association released the fifth edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, DSM-5. APA leaders have described the publication of DSM-5 as the arrival of the future, but critics complain that DSM-5 is an unnecessary revision. In a sense, both the APA and its critics are correct: DSM-5 is an important step towards a neuroscience diagnostic manual, but it is a subtle step. This pre-meeting workshop will focus on understanding these subtleties and their implications. Using cases, this workshop will explore the key differences between DSM-IV-TR and DSM-5 and how these differences alter clinical practice and research. Participants will learn to use DSM-5 assessment tools and rating scales that can help account for cultural differences and degrees of disability, while providing more objective measures of clinical function. Lastly, the workshop will explore the limits of DSM-5 and anticipated future iterations of the DSM.

The Judith J. Saklad Memorial Award

Monday, April 28, 8:30-9:00 a.m.

CPNP is pleased to announce the recipient of the 2014 Judith J. Saklad Memorial Award, Cynthia Kirkwood, PharmD, BCPP, Professor and Vice Chair for Education, Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, Virginia. The Judith J. Saklad Memorial Award celebrates the life and work of the late Dr. Judith J. Saklad. Dr. Saklad was a Clinical Pharmacologist and Clinical Coordinator of Pharmaceutical Services at San Antonio State School and Clinical Assistant Professor of Pharmacy and Pharmacology at The University of Texas at Austin and the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio. This award is presented annually to a senior psychiatric pharmacy practitioner who has achieved a level of professional distinction and, like Dr. Saklad, represents the qualities and ideals of professional enthusiasm, a passion for optimizing patient care, and continuing dedication to the practice of psychiatric pharmacy.

Are Atypical Antipsychotics Really Mood Stabilizers?
Sunday, April 27, 2:15-4:30 p.m.
Nassir Ghaemi, MD, MPH, Tufts Medical Center, Boston, MA
Joseph Goldberg, MD, Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, New York, NY

Bipolar disorder is a common, chronic, and often disabling psychiatric condition, in which patients experience an irregular pattern of acute mood episodes and varying degrees of inter-episode recovery. Historically, medications used to treat bipolar disorder such as lithium, valproic acid, and carbamazepine were termed mood stabilizers, and medications used to treat schizophrenia were termed antipsychotics. As clinical practice evolves, the increasing role for second-generation antipsychotics in the management of bipolar disorder remains controversial. In this session, two international experts will debate the issue of whether antipsychotics are truly “mood stabilizing” agents effective for the treatment of new mood episodes. This session is also approved for BCPP recertification credit.

Debating Medical Marijuana: Must Everyone Get Stoned to Feel Better?
Monday, April 28, 9:30-11:45 a.m.
Laura Borgelt, PharmD, FCCP, BCPS, Departments of Clinical Pharmacy & Family Medicine, Aurora, CO
Abraham Nussbaum, MD, MTS, Denver Health, University of Colorado Department of Psychiatry, Denver, CO

The Food and Drug Administration continues to classify marijuana as a Schedule I substance, implying that it has a high potential for abuse without a currently accepted medical use. However, twenty states and the District of Columbia permit the medical use of marijuana. Colorado has both the highest per-capita use of medical marijuana and one of the most regulated medical marijuana systems. In this debate session, two investigators from Colorado will discuss whether marijuana should remain a Schedule I substance, if physicians should prescribe medical marijuana, if pharmacists should dispense it, and what the future holds for medical marijuana.

Obesity: Understanding the Role of Leptin and Potential Treatment Targets
Tuesday, April 29, 9:00-10:00 a.m.
Jeffrey Friedman, MD, PhD, Rockefeller University/Howard Hughes Medical Institute, New York, NY

Obesity in the US is prevalent and people with severe mental illness are at even greater risk than the general population for developing obesity or obesity-related health disorders. Leptin is a hormone secreted by the adipose tissue, in proportion to its mass, that modulates food intake relative to energy expenditure and maintains weight within a relatively narrow range. Dr. Friedman will discuss the impact of obesity in society and its prevalence among patients with mental illness. He will examine the pathophysiologic basis for obesity, the emerging role of leptin, and treatment targets for obesity based on dysregulations in hormone function.
